ERIKSBERG

Scandinavia's biggest safari park

On the animals'
terms!

Welcome to a unique nature experience!

Eriksberg is an experience out of the ordinary, a nature reserve of nine square kilometres in Blekinge Archipelago where wild red and fallow deer, European bison, wild boar and moufflon roam freely together in a quiet and secluded environment.

On the animals' terms!

Go on a safari tour and see the animals in this unique nature area with leafy broadleaved deciduous forests and fascinating rocky landscape. In the summer and autumn, especially at dusk, the chances are good of seeing the park's big game and their offspring.

Borrow your own guide!

The safari tour is approx ten kilometres and can be driven in your own car or as a pre-booked tour with one of our knowledgeable guides. A minibus and tractor with cart are also available to book. If you drive in your own car, you can borrow a guide CD or cassette when you drive around.

Our opening times 2013:

We are open 1-2 June, 6-9 June and 15-16 June. From 22 June to 25 August, we are open daily from 12 pm. Latest admission is at 7 pm. You may remain inside the park up until darkness falls. Our restaurant, Visenten, has a summer café and an à la carte menu and is open daily from 12 noon until 9 pm. Last orders for hot food 8 pm (subject to variation). Each

Our admission prices 2013:

Wednesday and Friday in weeks 30-33, we will have a barbecue evening. All summer, we serve brunch on Sundays (must be booked in advance). We are open all the year round for pre-booked groups!

The best chance of seeing the wild animals is late afternoon/evening. For your own safety and out of consideration for the wild animals, you may only get out of your car in designated places in the area. It is forbidden to feed the animals!

Much to see

The animals are of course the main attraction, but Eriksberg also has the world's biggest stocks of the protected red water lily, as well as rich bird life. If you're in luck, you may see the sea eagle soar over the sea by Utsikten.

A park of opportunities

Eriksberg also has unique cultural environments and buildings from five centuries with a restaurant and café with the estate's own game products and exhibitions.

In connection to the estate, there is a nature playground and other children's activities, like cool pedal cars, and a nice barbecue hut.

Exclusive meeting place

Eriksberg was bought in 1938 by the well-known nature film-maker and author Bengt Berg. His experiments with deer resulted in the area being fenced in.

Today, Eriksberg is one of northern Europe's biggest game enclosures and is owned by Rune Andersson through Mellby Gård AB. In recent years, Eriksberg has been developed into a unique and exclusive experience and meeting place in Blekinge Archipelago with a first-class hotel, restaurants and conference facilities.

Eriksberg is situated in Blekinge archipelago, 15 km east of Karlshamn. E22 exit 54 Åryd. GPS: X: 6228270. Y: 1450185
